The commission, after an extended envestigation, found that what the express companies said was true, namely that they had been obliged, through the reduced rates fixed by the commis-Fion, to operate at a loss. It is esti mated that the new order will mean about $5,000,000 a year in additional revenue for the express companies.

This is the second big case in which the commission has found it necessary to reverse its own findings. In the case of the Eastern railroads the commission at first refused to grant the 5 per cent ing only partial relief.

A few months later the commission was forced to reconsider its decision and announced a much more favorable order chairman of the new advisory committee for the railroads. There have been five fires reported on mayal vessels within the last ten days. One of these occurred on the battleship New Jersey in the Boston yard, another on the battleship Alabama in the Philadelphia yard, and a third on the battleship Oklahoma at Camden, N. J., in the yard of the New York Shipbuilding Company.

froadway, who was a passenger on the Cunard liner Orduna on her recent trip when she was shelled by a German sub marine, made a statement yesterday as a warning. When the ship kept on her course the general attack began.

Mr. Leary added that when Baron Rosenkranz and his wife, who had arisen at dawn and said they saw the torpedo, first teld their story they said that the liner passed through the wake of the torpedo, indicating that the shot had been fired ahead of the terstenks. When the Baron later agreed, was to the effect that the torpedo, was to the effect that the torpedo, was to the effect that the torpedo passed about ten feet from the siern. The official statement of the captain made no reference to any warning from a blank shell.
